

A positive change

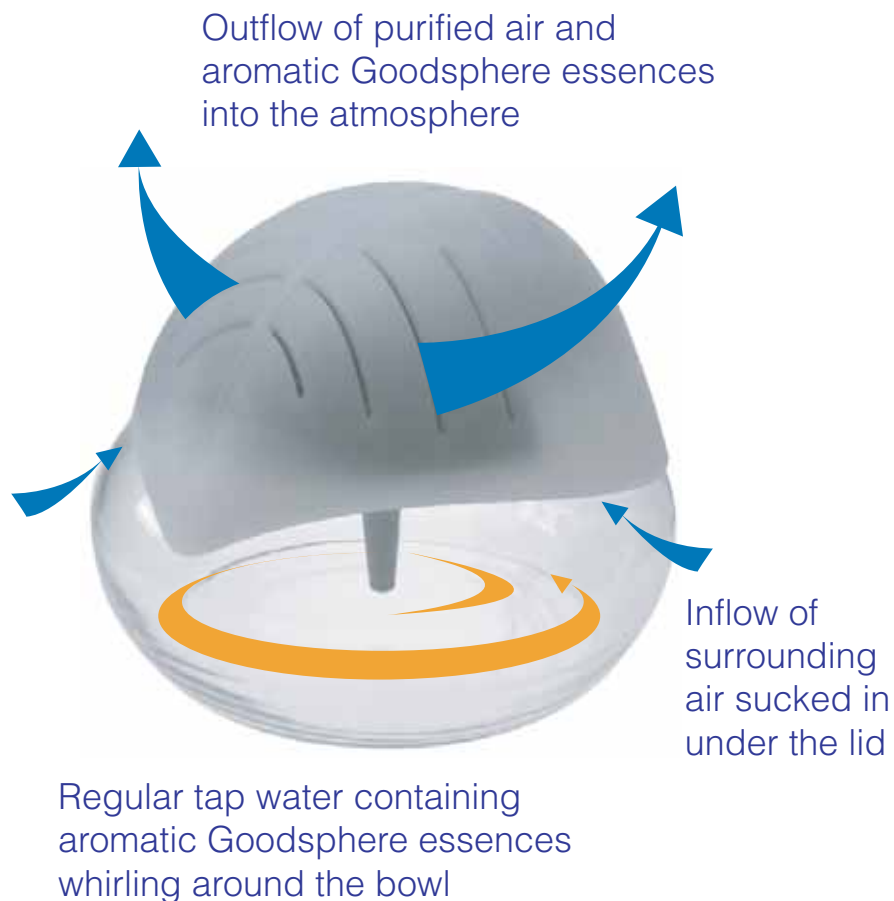

Breathing clean air makes you feel better, more active and more alive, and if you suffer from allergies it can make a dramatic difference to your quality of life. Simply cleaning the air in your home brings huge benefits to your health and wellbeing.

Goodsphere is the original total pure air system. It's unique air cleaning process harnesses the inherent purification properties of water and the natural anti-bacterial qualities of essential oils, to literally wash the air clean.

What is Goodsphere?

It's a simple and efficient technique that neutralises unpleasant odours like smoke and cooking smells in living rooms and kitchens, while in bedrooms it creates the optimal conditions for sleeping well, especially for allergy sufferers.

Last but not least, the System also acts as an ioniser, converting positive ions in the air into negative ions, with great benefits to the way you feel. Even better, unlike most other ionisers, it won't mark your walls.

Our product range

The Original System

The original Goodsphere was the first air cleaning system in the UK. The system will efficiently clean an area of up to 800ft². Along with the system and essence starter pack it also has the new Spectrum LED plate.

The Bubble

The bubble is the compact version of the original system. The bubble can cover an area of 400ft². The bubble also comes with the Spectrum LED plate.

Our essences explained

All the essences in the Goodsphere range work on the principles of aromatherapy to gently improve your mood and general wellbeing.

The original Goodsphere essences manufactured in Singapore were formulated to stress the importance of using natural, non-alcoholic, non-combustible ingredients.

Each season Goodsphere will launch a unique range of limited edition essences to satisfy the needs of all our Goodsphere customers, as we appreciate that not all fragrances can be included in our essence range.

Testimonials

Steve Brookes - BBC presenter: It (the Goodsphere System) far out shines any other air freshening system that I have come across in the past because it does much more than that – it actually cleans the air!

Sarah Chapman - Beautician: I see the Goodsphere as an essential addition to a good skincare routine and I send all my clients off armed with the brochure to buy one for their homes. I have a goodsphere in every room in my clinic and in my waiting area and I always sleep with one by my bed at home. Not only does it purify and humidify the air you can also mix amazing scents from French perfumers.

Jackie Somerville - Housewife: Due to the range of wonderful essences... everywhere in the house smells so good, even in the kitchen where cooking odours can get heavy. A very pleasurable product.

Bec Vickers - Pet owner: ...I can thoroughly recommend the Goodsphere System it doesn't only eradicate unwanted smells, but it's actually good for your health, you can actually feel the air around you feels a lot cleaner and pure.

Rosemary Marsh - Sufferer of sleep deprivation: I can't put into words what Goodsphere has done for me, I can now take part in my family's life again as I have more energy and that you cannot put a price on. Goodsphere has managed to do what no one else has, there are no words to tell you how I feel, all I can say is God Bless You.
